

THE DAILY STAR

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 28

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY.

For the next twenty-four hours cloudy and threatening, with rising temperature and probably light rain, followed by clearing weather.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A CONCERT will be given to-night for the benefit of Allen Temple.

THE Y. M. C. A. will hold their annual watch on the last of this month.

THE Board of Education met last night but transacted no business of importance.

THE Eldorado Club will give a grand masquerade ball on the night of the 13th of January.

THE reunion of the Woodward Alumni Association takes place to-night at Melodeon Hall.

THE sixth annual reunion of the stock men of the West takes place on the 13th of January at the Avenue Hotel.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY GERARD left this morning for Memphis, Tenn., to take the deposition to be used in the Tighe embezzlement case.

W. KAHNRY, who has been charged by J. P. Goppert, publisher of the Post-Office Bulletin, with embezzlement of $25, will be examined to-morrow morning.

LAST Friday night, in Miller's saloon in Camp Washington, Charles Wunder and Fred. Fritz assaulted Jos. Goedicke during their frequent drinks. They pay $10 and costs for it.

J. K. McHUTTON, about three weeks ago, came from Kentucky to this city with $700 on his person, and was seen about noon at one of the Fifth-street horse auctions, since which he has not been heard from. Foul play is suspected.

THE first grand entertainment given by the Whitford Dramatic Club takes place to-morrow evening at Thoms Hall. Selections from "Julius Caesar" and "Caste" will be rendered. Messrs. G. W. Whitford and John M. DeRose are participants.

THE members of the association owning the Mozart Hall property yesterday afternoon elected the following officers: Directors—Messrs. Charles G. Jacobs, J. B. Schneider, J. B. Wolterman, C. Oskamp, F. H. Moorman, Joseph Tiedman, J. J. Quinn, Joseph Niehaus, John G. Fratz, F. Vonderheide. Trustees—H. Clotermann, Joseph Sommer, H. Foss. Standing Committee—J. G. Budeke, J. B. Enneking, J. H. Drahmann.

THE St. Marie's "Sisters" of Third street, between Pike and Lawrence have been shamefully imposed upon for some time past, by a lot of dirty loafers, who hang around the "Blazing Stump," a disreputable doggerel on the levee, near Main, at night, and issue forth in the daytime and visit the convent to beg victuals. They are never turned away unserved, and they go some half a dozen times a day. It became monotonous, and Officer Fox determined to stop it. He set a trap for them. He stationed himself inside with a request that the sister on duty at the door would call him when the party had all entered. Seven came in, and Fox made a raid, capturing August Straub, Pat Halley, John Tully, James Walsh, John Kearney, Thomas Bilbo and John Strube, and took them in, preferring a charge of vagrancy against them. His Honor this morning gave them each a term of Work-house ranging from ten to sixty days.

Coroner's Inquest.

The Coroner held an inquest this morning on the body of Martha Green, a colored girl, who died in a very peculiar manner at No. 101 East Sixth street, on December 24th. It was at first supposed that her death had been brought about by a blow on the side of the head, administered by one Walter Wilson, a colored man, who met her at a ball in Pickett's dance-house. The testimony and the autopsy all went to show that such was not the case. The following was the verdict of the jury: "Death from congestion of the brain, superinduced by intemperance and exposure."

Gore and Gents.

Mrs. Anna Hampton lives with her family, near the Round-house, in Pendleton. Joseph Cedillo is a painter, and resides next door, on Levee street.

Mrs. Hampton has a few goats; the painter has fruit trees, and the goats climb his trees and eat up leaves and things.

His patience became exhausted the other day, and he banged away with a pistol at the old goat-ess, and the shot will prove fatal. Hard words between the families brought on the arrest of Joseph, and he pays $1 and costs for his pistol practice, and admonished not to go it so strong when he gets rambunctious again.

Where's That Money?

On Christmas day a party of convivial friends spent a very pleasant day together, until, in the evening, it was ascertained that one of them had lost $225 in money; then the friends who had been drinking beer together all day suddenly became bitter enemies, and the bad blood engendered by the loss and suspicions attending it resulted in arrests and an examination in the Police Court.

The loser of the money is Mrs. Norman Teighader, who lives on Fifteenth street near Elm. She and Kate Hunsche, who resides on the corner of Hopkins and Freeman, Chas. Fischer, a sewing machine agent of Race street near Liberty, and Sophia Thackemeyer, corner Poplar and Freeman, were all in a wagon on their way to Teighader's. Arriving there they got out and went in, when soon after the money was missed by Mrs. T., who got excited, of course. No accusations, however, were made just then, but it was noticed that Mrs. Hunsche became suddenly ill; so much so that she went straight home, but soon after returned, stayed a while and again went home. The husband of the woman who lost the money, thinking that some of the party had it, concluded to arrest them all, which he did. He also got out a search warrant, and Officer Magley searched Mrs. Hunsche's house, but found nothing.

They all appeared in the Police Court this morning, but there being no evidence implicating any of them with the larceny, they were discharged. The amount of it is that they were all on a j. m. bond, and the money was lost out of the wagon.

Dishonesty in Eureka, Nevada, runs in strange directions. The best horse in town was stolen.

FOSTER VS. FOX.

Miss Foy Brands Foster as a Fraud

—The Other Side of the Story.

Mrs. Brown, the mother of Mrs. John Foster, nee Miss Foy, who, like most mothers-in-law, considers herself greatly aggrieved, called upon us yesterday and requested that she and her daughter be given a chance to set themselves right before the public, with regard to "That Foster Affair." She then produced the following, which we hope will at once convince all candid readers of the STAR that "common nigger singers" are, as a class, very dangerous individuals, and like the heathen Chinee, for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, decidedly peculiar.

ED. STAR: Noticing an article in your paper of the 24th date, and, although it isn't worth thinking of, and I don't care a pin about it, I can not help contradicting a few sentences which are untrue. You state I wrote to a man whom you state is an actor and comedian, "who, however, is a common nigger singer." In this letter you state I begged this man Foster to marry me. I have only been acquainted with this man four weeks; during this time he followed and dogged after me the entire time. His attentions were very insulting to me, for I did not wish to associate with such a notorious character. Proof of this can be ascertained by him telling how many times I disappointed him in his engagements, because I didn't wish to see him. I at last met him six or seven times. He did nothing during this time but send me letters, three and four daily, and many baskets of fruit, merely to get into my favor. He proposed to me, and asked me to marry him on Monday. I said that "yes, I would—no," merely joking. I certainly didn't mean to keep such an absurd promise. Neither did I meet him Monday, although he had the license and came after me several times, besides sending me numerous notes, etc.

The reason I didn't meet this man on Monday was because I didn't wish to, and not because my mother locked and kept me from so doing, as you stated. He (Foster) then dogged after me, asking me to marry him. I promised them on Tuesday to be married to him at the Galt House. I did this through my fear of him and his dire threats. I was absolutely forced into the marriage which was anything but pleasant to me; it was consummated in such a short space of time I didn't realize what I had done until the deed was done. I was sorry the moment the ceremony was over. I wished to go home that very moment, but he (Foster) objected. I then wrote to my mother telling her of the marriage, and saying I would be home the next day; this Foster would not let me do but tore it (the letter) up. I came home the next day, purely of my own accord, and fully bent and determined to stay. I was not locked or kept home by my mother, but went home and remained, and a divorce is pending immediately.

I write this merely to justify my mother, as your article leaves every one to believe that she was cruel to me and locked and kept me at home against my will, which she did not, and I should like the public in general to know the truth. And now, whatever the villain Foster's reply may be, or whatever slur or taunt he may publish, I shall not take any notice of whatever, as I do not crave newspaper notoriety, neither do I wish a newspaper controversy, but am perfectly willing to have the matter settled according to law.

Respectfully, ADA FOY.

Board of Health Investigation.

Another meeting of the Investigating Committee was held yesterday evening, but nothing of special importance was elicited, save, perhaps, the testimony of Mr. Forbus, who denied most positively that he had ever attempted in any manner to secure business through the agency of a bribe. He got all his work on the square. He had known Mr. Wm. Smith for many years, and they were warm personal friends. He admitted that he gave Mr. Smith a package at the confectionery, but there was nothing in the package but permits to clean vaults, which were given to Mr. Smith to be placed on file in the Health office. He admitted also that he had sent a string of fish to the Health office, and claimed that he had a right so to do. And that's all.

Hopper-Birnbaum.

So far in the count of the county precincts Hopper has gained two votes. The number of Democratic tickets so far found with Birnbaum's name printed on them, is—city, 123; country, 39; total, 162. The number that will be found among the tickets yet to be counted will hardly increase the total number to 175. In the city, Birnbaum was found by the recount to have a majority of 1,180. The official vote gave Hopper, in the country, a majority of 980, leaving Birnbaum's net majority 200. Should the Democratic tickets with Birnbaum's name printed on them, be thrown out of the count, on the ground of irregularity, Birnbaum will still have a net majority of at least 25.

Court Cuttings.

Lyon & Breddon vs. The Western Insurance Company. Suit on policies of insurance. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiffs for $3,892.

The State vs. Louisa Stoball. The defendant was found guilty of stealing $899 from Emma Carey; sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary.

Henry Bietner and Philip Bentz pleaded guilty to burglary and were each sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary.

Francis Oehler was appointed administrator of Sylvester Oehler, deceased. Estate, $200 in personality.

Catherine Reynolds was appointed administratrix of Michael Reynolds, deceased. Estate, $1,015 in personality.

Andrew Knell was appointed administrator of Wm. Helmkamp, deceased. Estate, $500 in personality.

REASONS WHY.

The reasons why Dr. Price's True Flavoring Extracts, Lemon, Vanilla, etc., are superior to all others is because they are prepared from the choicest selected fruits and aromatics, without coloring or poisonous oils, that all the flavoring principles are retained unchanged by chemical action, highly concentrated, requiring less to flavor, that there is no deception as they hold one-half more than those sold for the same size. That they are in every particular like his celebrated Cream Baking powder—perfect.
